REA Veto Vote Amazes Dems

Next Spending Plan Moves under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jolted by their inability to upset an Eisenhower veto, congressional Democrats took a new look today at their plans to push through some big-spending legislation.

They may have to mark down sharply the price tags on some pending bills or risk vetoes which they now have little hope of overriding.

"They will have to be a little more reasonable after what happened yesterday in the House," commented House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

What happened was a double reverse for the Democrats and a dual victory for President Eisenhower.

The House refused by vote of 280-146 to override Eisenhower's veto of a bill which would have taken from Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson his power to refuse loans to rural telephone and electric cooperatives.

The 274 Democrats and 6 Republicans who voted to override fell four votes short of the required two-thirds. Four Democrats joined 142 Republicans in voting to support Eisenhower's position.

The Senate had voted 64-29 to upset the veto.

It was the 138th bill vetoed by the President. He has never had a veto overridden.

Facing probable vetoes if they ever reach the White House in their present form are bills calling for heavy federal outlays for airport development, housing, community facilities and aid for depressed areas.

City Polio Clinic Starts Tuesday Night

The Circleville Health Department will open a Polio Immunization Clinic for children under 18 years of age Tuesday in the Municipal Building.

"Children residing in Circleville and the city school district are urged to attend this clinic to receive polio vaccine shots against this dreaded and crippling disease," Health Department officials stated today.

The clinic will be held in the City Health office on the first floor of the Municipal Building, S. Court St.

It will run from 7 until 9 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday and the same hours and days of the following week. The series will include three shots.

THE SECOND SHOT will be given one month from date the first shot was received. The third and final shot will be administered six months from the date of the second shot.

Children who have not received their polio shots and whose families are unable to secure their shots from family doctors due to financial reasons, are invited to attend.

Health officials said, "We have at hand a means to end all suffering and damage caused by poliomyelitis. It is the responsibility of all parents to see that each and every child is protected against this disease."

The City Health Department is holding this clinic in conjunction with the City Health Board and City Council, which allotted $500 toward this program.

Trained nurses and Dr. Henry H. Swope, member of the City Health Board, will be on hand to administer these shots.

His Backache

Cost Him $180

TOLEDO (AP)—His backache cost Robert Gunter $180.

Gunter told police two men came to his home, looking for odd jobs. He told them he had no work for them and happened to mention his aching back.

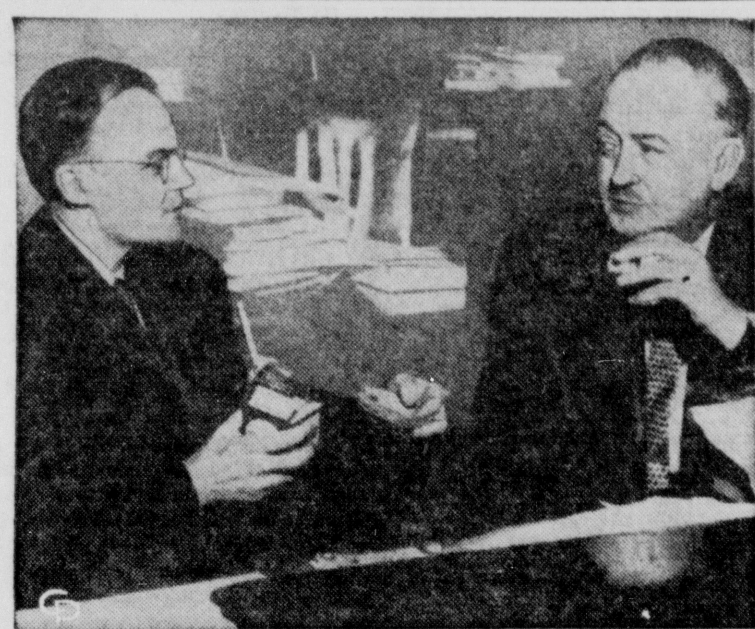

Said one: "I can make a salve that will fix that."

The man whipped up a batch of salve in Gunter's kitchen and rubbed it on his back.

When they left, Gunter found that they had lifted $180 from his pants pockets.

Churchill Takes Rest

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill, who is going to Washington Monday to meet President Eisenhower, is resting up for that trip at Chartwell, his country home in Kent. The former prime minister is 84.

NO CABBAGE FOR LUNCH — Packing their lunches because they don't have paychecks to buy their meal are Rep. William Ryan (left) and Rep. George Montgomery. The state of Michigan, with $177 million in its till, was in a bankrupt state with its first payless payday in history. Democrats and Republicans argued over whether the cash crisis was genuine or a hoax.

Red, Non-Red Workers Hail May Day with Festivities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Workers celebrated May Day in many lands today with parades and festivities against a backdrop of international tension.

Communists and non-Communists staged separate rallies in capitals in the non-Communist world.

The Soviet Union's traditional parade in Red Square saw a beaming Premier Nikita Khrushchev taking the salute shortly after being awarded the Lenin Peace Prize for 1958.

Boasts of Soviet military might came from the defense minister, Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, but the parade was a disappointment to Westerners looking for new weapons.

"Our military forces," Malinovsky said, "are ready to give a destructive rebuff to any who try to obstruct the productive work of the Socialist Soviet Union."

The theme seemed to stress defense. Missing were the big rockets of last year. Instead, was an artillery show called by Moscow radio the "most awesome" highlight of the parade. It described "antiaircraft equipment as big as factories and twin-barreled self-propelled guns capable

Expert Says Diamonds May Be on Moon

WASHINGTON (AP) — There may be diamonds in the moon, says a Wisconsin scientist.

Dr. G. P. Kuiper of Yerkes Observatory, Williams Bay, Wis., said the craters on the moon shaped like big ice cream cones seem to be similar to the funnel-like craters topping the Kimberlite "diamond pipes" in South Africa. The African pipes extend deep into the earth, and it is from them that diamonds are mined.

Kuiper told about the moon craters discovery at a space symposium at the National Academy of Sciences. He spoke further about them in an interview.

He said the finding—made with an 8-inch, high-powered telescope—shows that there are now two known types of craters on the moon:

1. Bowl-shaped craters believed by many scientists to have been caused by the impact of meteorites bombarding the moon in ages past.

2. The cone-shaped craters which Kuiper theorizes were created by explosions caused by gas escaping from inside the moon when it was still hot.

Although he said these craters are similar to those in the Kimberlite diamond mines, he is less certain of the existence of diamonds in them.

Monty Is Sorry

About His Remarks

LONDON (AP)—Field Marshal Montgomery came home from Moscow today and apologized for saying U.S. leadership was slipping.

It was almost his first act after stepping off the plane that brought him back from two meetings with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"If I have caused offense to any of my friends on the other side of the Atlantic I would like to apologize unreservedly and sincerely to them," he said.

Montgomery's original remarks were made in a TV interview released as he took off for Moscow.

Britain's best known wartime soldier looked grim as he expressed the apology.

Ohio Solons Ponder State Finance Status

Future of DiSalle's Tax Proposals Hinge On Grassroots Views

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's legislators were at their homes today, but the big money fight of the 103rd general assembly went home with them.

Each lawmaker—Republican or Democrat—has in his hands a summary of the state's financial prospects.

The summary maintains that the state needs about 335 million dollars in new revenue in the next two years to keep the state subsidies and services alive, and about 33 million more for a financial cushion.

Almost all Republicans in the Legislature—and some of the majority Democrats—have been reluctant to give Gov. Michael V. DiSalle the money he says he needs to keep the state solvent and still move ahead on necessary programs. The "homework" assigned to the lawmakers is the first move in DiSalle's big pitch to get the tax program approved.

"This will give them an idea of where to start cutting, if—," DiSalle commented as he handed copies of the summary to newsmen late Thursday.

Most of DiSalle's tax program has passed the House, except for the sales tax revision bill calculated to raise another 119 million dollars in the next two years.

That bill started in the Senate and still is bogged down there. It is bogged down to the extent that Senate Taxation Committee Chairman, Stephen R. Olenick (D-Mahoning) has given up and has said it is up to DiSalle or Senate Majority Leader Frank W. King (D-Lucas) to get the one additional vote needed to bring the sales tax bill out of committee.

DiSalle and Finance Director James Malone have been insisting of late that the state needs a 25-million-dollar operating balance—just to have "money in the bank" to pay bills when tax collections lag. For that reason, they say the yield of proposed taxes would leave only about eight million dollars in surplus at the end of the two-year bookkeeping period which ends June 30, 1961.

Further, they insist, their $1,929,516,207 budget is the first biennial budget in 12 years that has been lower than its predecessor. They figure it is 134 million dollars below the 1957-59 budget of former Gov. C. William O'Neill.

The general fund budget—including appropriations for schools and mental health—they concede, is some 167 millions above O'Neill's, but it is 88 millions lower on highways, 84 millions lower on capital improvements and slightly lower in several other areas of spending.

Before Thursday's adjournment, the House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

Grant county employees of 15 years standing who work by the day three-week paid vacations each year.

Increase fees for examination and registration of dentists and dental hygienists.

Increase fees and expenses for witnesses in dog damage hearings.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to permit reciprocal insurers to write casualty as well as fire insurance in Ohio.

McElroy Concedes Missiles Unready

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy has conceded that no American intermediate-range missiles in Britain are ready to fire.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) Tuesday in a National Press Club speech said Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, had told Congress in January American Thor missiles were "sitting there and ready to go" at British bases.

Symington said he inspected one of the British bases 10 weeks after Twining's report and found "there was nothing 'ready to go'.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—A dancing spider, church bells and laughter, and even sunlight in the dark of night.

These are some of the weird dreams men have had as they lay wide awake confined in a coffin like tank in a darkened room, a researcher said today.

Why does the mind, deprived of much of its sensations, make up fantastic sights, sounds and stories so vivid they seem real?

Perhaps because the mind is looking for some sort of meaning in the jumble around it, said John Marcell Davis, a Yale University medical student.

This would explain why persons, shut completely off from sight and sound, have fewer hallucinations than persons who have some meaningless sights and sounds in the room with them, Davis told the American Psychiatric Assn. annual meeting.

Davis and some Harvard University psychiatrists are trying several experiments.

4 Mice Slated For Space Trip

U. S. Satellite Due For Firing in June

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Four black mice sail into space next month in an American attempt to prove that a living creature can leave earth and return alive.

The mice will ride in a specially designed "life package" capsule in the nose cone of Discoverer III. The satellite is expected to be launched into polar orbit from this West Coast missile base in about 30 days.

The little astronauts will be chosen from 50 black mice now under observation at Holloman Air Force Base, N.M.

Scientists will measure their reactions to blastoff, weightlessness and the stresses of re-entry. The main object, though, is to get something alive into orbit and back to earth again safely.

This has never been done with any animal.

One unofficial source said there was about one chance in 100 of success.

The Air Force had no comment.

How long the four black mice will stay aloft was not disclosed.

The Discoverer III capsule, painted a yellowish green, will be almost a yard wide and two feet high. If all goes well, it will drift earthward after ejection over the Pacific beneath a bright orange parachute.

Hawaii-based planes will try to snatch it with nets as it descends. If they miss, the buoyant cone's radio beacon is designed to send out signals for at least 10 hours to pinpoint its location for search vessels.

Full Recovery Chances Poor On Godfrey

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center said today that Arthur Godfrey "spent a satisfactory postoperative night with no complications."

The 55-year-old, red-haired radio and TV star, who underwent five-hour surgery Thursday for removal of a lung cancer, slept under sedation through the night in the hospital recovery room. His wife Mary remained at the hospital.

Facing an uphill fight for survival, Godfrey stood up well under the operation.

A hospital bulletin, after surgeons took out a tumor in his left lung, said: "The upper lobe of the lung was successfully removed with the contained tumor. He withstood the operation well. His general condition immediately postoperative is good."

Doctors said it would be at least two months before Godfrey can return to the air. Oct. 5 is Godfrey's 30th anniversary as a radio-TV performer—a career which has made him a millionaire and, at times, a controversial figure in the entertainment world.

After X-rays disclosed a chest tumor several weeks ago, Godfrey said on a TV show: "Keep your fingers crossed. I think I'll be back again one day."

Generalized figures on lung cancer from the American Cancer Society put Godfrey under 25-1 odds against complete recovery.

The society considers a lung cancer victim as "surviving" if he is alive five years after treatment.

Panama Invaders Set to Surrender

PANAMA (AP)—The leader of the Cuban invaders of Panama said today he and his men are ready to surrender unconditionally and submit to Panamanian courts.

Cesar Vega, a former Havana night club owner who led the expeditionary force of less than 100 ashore six days ago, said he would return to the invaders' base on the Caribbean coast and get formal approval from his men. But he said he had already taken an opinion poll and the discouraged adventurers favored a quick settlement.

"We are optimistic about reaching a settlement within a few days," said a spokesman for the inter-American team of diplomats trying to end the threat to Panamanian President Ernesto de la Guardia's government.

Vega said he was responding to direct surrender appeals from Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, his brother Raul, commander of the Cuban armed forces, and the Organization of American States.

Insisting the expedition had no support from the Cuban government, Vega said the invaders had been told Panamanians would rally to their support and a general strike would paralyze the country after they landed. Nothing like that happened.

He said the invaders, inspired by reports Panama is unhappy under its present government, paid for their own arms and uniforms and are not mercenaries as the Panamans' government has charged.

Vega also denied government claims that Roberto Arias, husband of British ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn and son of a former Panamanian president, helped organize the invasion.

An OAS spokesman refused to divulge details of the all-night conference held at the U.S. Albrook Air Force Base.

De la Guardia had demanded unconditional surrender of the invaders, who he charged were hired by Panamanian opponents of his regime. He die promise to spare their lives.

Col. Bolivar Vallarino, chief of Panama's National Guard, had countermanded orders to attack the invading expedition holed up in the small town of Nombre de Dios, 20 miles from the northern end of the canal.

"I think everything is going to be settled," he told newsmen.

A bill pending in the Legislature would give the governor sweeping reorganization powers. But the administration-backed measure has met stiff resistance and its fate appears uncertain.

Apparently accepting that situation, the governor said he will start a study of the problem as soon as the Legislature adjourns.

"We will have our own 'Hoover Commission' working at Cabinet level," he told department heads at their regular weekly meeting.

"We will make an extensive study and make recommendations to the Legislature that will streamline government in Ohio and eliminate every possible waste. The cost of government will be high. We can't avoid it. But we can eliminate some of the waste."

British Planning To Launch 'Moon'

LONDON (AP) — Britain is planning to send a British-American earth satellite into space, London newspapers reported today.

The decision to proceed with the space program was taken Friday at a meeting of Prime Minister Macmillan and his top ministers, the reports said. The Daily Telegraph said the program would cost between 28 and 56 million dollars.

The newspaper said indications were that the satellite would be propelled by Britain's 2,500-mile range Blue Streak missile and that the satellite itself would be American and its instruments inside British.

There is no controversy over increasing FHA's insurance program, which is self-supporting. But there is sharp disagreement over other sections of the bill, which would authorize an estimated $2,100,000,000 of spending for public housing, slum clearance, area redevelopment and other government-aided housing programs. The figure far exceeds that asked by President Eisenhower.

Senate Fuss Given Blame

President Regretful In Telling Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clare Booth Luce quit today as ambassador to Brazil because of her public row with Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore).

President Eisenhower regretfully announced her decision after an hour's talk with her at the White House.

In a letter to the President, Mrs. Luce said:

"It is no longer possible for me to accomplish the mission which you have entrusted to me."

CLARE BOOTH LUCE

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference that Eisenhower sought to persuade Mrs. Luce to reconsider her decision to quit.

"But her letter gives the reasons why she felt she could not reconsider her decision," Hagerty said.

Mrs. Luce, solemn-faced, stood beside Hagerty as he announced her decision. She refused to make any comment on her decision other than that set out in her letter.

Her letter said the "climate of good will was poisoned by thousands of words of extraordinarily ugly charges against my person, and of distrust of the mission I was to undertake."

She did not mention Sen. Morse by name, but she noted that "the American author of these charges" is also chairman of a Senate subcommittee which handles Latin American affairs.

Morse tried to block Senate approval of her appointment but was defeated by a 79-11 vote in her favor Tuesday.

A few hours after this, Mrs. Luce caused an angry uproar by saying in New York that her troubles began when Morse was "kicked in the head by a horse" in 1951.

Morse called her remark proof she was not fitted for the diplomatic post. He implied she was unstable mentally.

And her husband, Henry R. Luce, editor in chief of Time magazine, publicly urged her to quit.

In summing up her decision to step aside, Mrs. Luce told the President in her letter:

"Common sense indicates that the good will and support which the rest of the Senate has given will not be forthcoming from the subcommittee chairman (Morse)."

"A continuing harassment of my mission, with a view to making my own charges stick, is the natural course the chairman would follow. And the sad fact is not that I, but Brazilian-American policy would be the victim."

"It therefore seems indisputable that at this time of grave economic difficulties in Brazil, the best interests of that country, as well as of the United States, will

FHA May Halt Housing Loans On June 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stringent rationing of FHA home mortgage insurance within a month was foreseen today unless the congressional housing deadlock is broken soon.

Informed Capitol Hill sources predicted the Federal Housing Administration will have to halt action on all new applications by June 1 if new insurance authorization is not voted by then.

Congress sets a ceiling on the total value of housing mortgages which may be insured by FHA. This ceiling would be raised six billion dollars immediately and another four billions July 1 under a pending omnibus housing bill. But the measure is blocked in the House Rules Committee.

EAS Survey Ended Today

The General Telephone Co. survey of the Ashville and Williamsport exchanges to determine if these areas desire toll-free service to Circleville came to an end today.

Harold Miller, general's local commercial manager, reported a decided number of persons were against the extended area service to Circleville at additional cost.

Miller stated that 127 persons voted for EAS and 87 against it. A total of 327 ballots were sent to this exchange.

MILLER SAID that he is doubtful that General will install EAS to either area due to the anti-voting.

"I will file a report today to Ohio General's home office of the survey result, which will in turn be forwarded to the Public Utility Commission of Ohio", Miller said.

Bond Is Forfeited

Arnold Daniels, 22, Lincoln Park, Mich., forfeited a $16.50 bond in Circleville Municipal Court today on a charge of changing direction of a motor vehicle without proper caution. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Conservation Is Religious Task for All

By Rev. William M. McOmber

"No man, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God" (Matt. 9:62).

Sunday has been designated "Rural Life Sunday." The week following has been set aside as "Soil Stewardship Week." It is appropriate that an emphasis on conservation begins with a consideration of religious heritage.

The scriptures are rooted in rural life. The promised land of the Old Testament was one with good earth "flowing with milk and honey." The Psalms were written with a background of pastoral life. In connection with conservation, one might quote one of the Proverbs, though out of context, "the plowing of the wicked is sin" (21:4b).

Jesus also spoke out of a rural background. "Consider the lilies of the field," he said. Another time he began, "A man went out to sow." Jesus had some stern words about the kingdom of God when he said that as a man plows a straight furrow by a disciplined lead ahead, so one is fit for the kingdom of God by training himself to its importance.

TODAY rural life has become very complicated. Conservation began with the theme "Two blades of grass where there is one." Now we are concerned about marketing that second blade. Nevertheless, conservation is a desperate need. The fact is that today we are depleting our heritage which we will pass on tomorrow to our multiplying heirs.

Most of the motivation for conservation today is based on economic efficiency. Tomorrow, with our increasing population, conservation may be a physical necessity. Older countries have been forced to practice conservation out of need; we now practice it in relative luxury.

Therefore, it is important that we look at conservation from the stand point of stewardship. It is a religious responsibility. Jesus told his followers that the demands of the kingdom of God are imperative. To the man who wished to bury his father before he followed him, Jesus said "Let the dead bury their dead." To the man who wished to say farewell to his family before he followed him, Jesus said, "No man, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God."

Our government, with keen insight into human nature, must promote conservation by the profit incentive or the motivation from the fear of reprisal. Our religious motivation for conservation is based on the prior incentive of the kingdom of God and its consequent responsibilities.

Conservation is a discipline for rural and urban people alike. "Litterbugs" and those who carelessly start fires are as guilty as the farmer who saps the land of its strength. However, above the laws

Report From The State House

By Rep. Ed Wallace

The Ohio House has voted on and passed 109 bills at the close of the 17th week. The Senate has voted on 77 bills. Seventeen bills have been signed into law by Governor DiSalle.

The administration bill, known as a tax measure to increase the state's share in parimutuel wagering, ran into difficulty this week. This was partly because some feared the legislation might adversely affect county fairs by cutting the Ohio Fair Fund — established to improve the standards of racing at county fairs.

Representative Wallace reported that the Legislature is ready to pass a bill providing for an in-

be served by your selection of another plenipotentiary.

"Again, I regret with all my heart that I will not have the opportunity to be of this service to you, to our country and to inter-American relations."

Mrs. Luce declined to say what her future plans are.

Mrs. Luce's decision to quit was welcomed by some senators. Others expressed regret.

Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho) told reporters he thinks Mrs. Luce "showed good judgment in taking her husband's advice" to resign.

Church, member of the foreign Relations Committee, said he did not believe Mrs. Luce could have been effective in Brazil.

Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California, acting Senate Republican leader, said "the resignation is understandable and the events leading to it are regrettable."

Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) said the resignation was not surprising in view of the events of the last few days.

"I think perhaps that's the greatest service she could have done for the country at the present," McNamara said.

Tribunal Rules

Daytonian Guilty

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Ralph Woodard was convicted of second-degree murder today in the Nov. 3 slaying of his brother, Orville.

The three-judge panel deliberated 6½ hours. Judge Charles Lee Mills read a statement which said Woodard could not escape criminal responsibility despite his record of alcoholic hallucinations.

The victim was shot five times and his throat slashed. The brothers were partners in a junk yard at Moraine, south of Dayton.

School Board Riot Quelled By 60 Cops

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A riot broke out at a school board meeting at suburban Aldin late Thursday night in a dispute involving a dry treasury. Two board members suffered minor cuts before 60 deputy sheriffs broke up the affair.

The board called the emergency meeting after teachers voted a second time in two weeks not to work without pay. The 9,000-pupil system is without funds.

Three board members who refused to resign took refuge in a rest room after two of them received minor cuts in a brief fight with citizens. Several persons rushed to the high school auditorium stage, pulled two board members from the platform and struck them with chairs.

Richard Cas, board president, said the seven-man board should quit.

The injured members were Robert L. Whitmarsh and Harry Ammons. The third minority member, Carl H. Tautenhahn, escaped behind the stage. They refused to resign and the flareup followed.

Whitmarsh suffered a cut on the back of the head. Ammons sustained a cut on the forehead.

The special meeting was called after teachers of the independent school district voted 169-12 to leave their jobs until enough money is in sight to assure they will be paid through Aug. 31, end of the fiscal year.

Tigers Earn First Place In Triangular

Circleville High School's 75½ points were more than enough to take first place in a triangular track meet with Hillsboro and Greenfield yesterday.

Hillsboro ended with 51½ points and Greenfield tallied 21. The meet was at Greenfield.

Larry Hannahs captured three first places for the Tigers, taking both hurdle events and the shotput. He ended as top point maker for the day.

Junior Denny won the 100-yard dash, Bob Shadley was first in the 880-yard run, Dick Gerhardt took the Discus toss and Gary Vandemark led the field in the 440-yard dash.

DENNY and Vandemark tied for first place in the high jump and Circleville won both the 880 and mile relay events.

The Tiger cindermen go for the big one Wednesday when the South Central Ohio League meet is scheduled at Franklin Heights.

Firemen Get 2 Calls Here

The Circleville Fire Department made two calls here yesterday and today.

At 1 a. m. today firemen were summoned to the J. W. Eschelman & Sons plant on E. Mill St. to investigate a fire in the engine room.

According to firemen, the blaze

High School Gets Engine

Circleville High School received an engine for use in its automotive shop from the International Harvester Corporation Wednesday. Final arrangements were completed by high school principal, J. Wray Henry.

The engine is the second received from manufacturers this year and indicates the efforts made by producers to fill the acute need for skilled mechanics in the automotive industry.

The engine features several design variations from standard automotive type engines. It will be used for break down and reassembly operations which develop dexterity with tools and skills in adjustments after assembly.

The class presently is studying planetary gearing, servos, and hydraulic controls. These features are incorporated into automatic transmissions.

THE BARTHELMAS Auto Parts Company presented the class with a transmission for this work. They have given the class several smaller items used for training purposes.

Parts are cut so that all important working parts can be seen and understood with minimum effort on the part of the student.

Stanley Spring is the automotive teacher. He also teaches electricity and metals.

Walnut Girls Participate In Music Meet

The Walnut Girls' Chorus traveled to Mansfield, Saturday, to participate in the Ohio Music Education Assn. State Competition.

This group, directed by Miss Mary Jo Gaskalla, was organized for the first time this year and qualified for the State Contest by receiving a Superior or No. 1 rating in the District Contest held at Capital University in March.

The numbers performed were "And The Glory of The Lord", by Handel; "Spring Rain" by Gould; and "Trouble Don't Last Always" by Dett. Mrs. David Dill was the piano accompanist.

Capitol Hill Lauds

Dillon Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP)—C. Douglas Dillon's elevation by President Eisenhower to the No. 2 spot in the State Department was welcomed with enthusiasm on Capitol Hill today.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), assistant Senate majority leader, said "Mr. Eisenhower could not have made a better choice" when he nominated the former New York investment banker Thursday to replace Christian A. Herter in the second-ranking position.

Small Car Battle Is On

The success of the European automobile manufacturers in invading the American car market with their small cars has finally brought a reaction from Detroit. Two of the Big Three American manufacturers are prepared to bring out "economy" cars later this year. The third is expected to follow. Two smaller U. S. manufacturers are already in the field.

The answer of European car makers to Detroit is to bring out "economy" models of their own. Thus, in addition to small foreign cars entering the U. S. market in the next few months, there will be foreign "economy" models—a cross between the small car and the standard American breed.

Thus, the Europeans hope not only to counter-punch Detroit but to take the edge off the reluctant American move by their own versions of what Detroit is attempting.

It should be noted, of course, that many of the "small cars" being sold in this country have come from Detroit's foreign plants. In fact, Detroit has jumped its share of foreign-made cars from 24 per cent last year to 38 per cent this year.

Perhaps the real point of the coming battle is not prestige, but the future in world markets. American cars — subjected to tariffs of from 50 per cent to 150 per cent, compared to U. S. tariff of 15 per cent on foreign car imports — have been losing out. At the same time German auto manufacturers have discovered that the so-called "baby cars" haven't caught on. The future may lie with the medium and economy sizes.

Incidentally, American manufacturers may take some comfort from a recent German bulletin to the effect that there is an upswing in imports of foreign cars into West Germany, Italy and France are making a concerted bid to capture a larger share of the West German car market.

Britain Reduces Taxes

A budgetary miracle of the atomic age has been performed by Great Britain's Conservative government. It has cut income, sales and beer taxes by a billion dollars and at the same time has produced a budget for 1959-60 that not only provides increased funds for defense, but achieves a surplus of nearly $300 million.

The tax cuts are designed primarily to release additional purchasing power and thus stimulate a vigorous expansion of the country's economy. Chancellor of the Exchequer Amory apparently believes the time is ripe for new industrial growth.

Britain's finances are in better shape than at any time since World War II. The nation wound up the last fiscal year March 31 with a surplus of more than a billion dollars. The pound sterling is so strong that it is again a reserve currency of other nations.

Britons deserve the rewards of national progress since their last budget. They have emerged from a period of austerity, apparently victorious in the battle with inflation. That British taxpayers will give warm approval to the budget is probably putting it mildly. Even the opposition Labor Party can say very little against the popular appeal of tax reductions that are bound to win friends and influence votes for the Conservatives.

When Mr. Amory's predecessor, Peter Thorneycroft, two years ago embarked on Britain's austerity program in the face of political danger, he said the government was simply facing the facts of life. Now that same government is facing the facts of a general election, probably in October.

Ideas for New Kinds of Taxes

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — The big problem in America today is—how can the government live off everybody who everybody is trying to live off the government?

Practically every government—federal, state or local—is running short of money. They also seem to be running out of ideas for new taxes.

The City Council here, for example, has just voted a five per cent tax on restaurant checks over a dollar. The tax was voted in an atmosphere of apology to "the little man," a tacit admission that only a cigar store Indian could find a decent meal here for less than a buck.

This abject attitude of polite concern over the plight of the taxpayer, however, isn't going to enable any government to live in the style to which it wants to become accustomed.

What governments need is the courage to reach firmly into new and unplumbed areas of the public purse and pluck boldly therefrom the money it wants.

Here are a few tentative suggestions:

Why not tax pedestrians? If drivers have to fork up money to get a license to use the city streets, why shouldn't pedestrians be made to pay for the privilege of wearing out the city side-walks?

The issuance of $10 annual pedestrian licenses would not only add millions of dollars in revenue to most big municipalities. It would enable them to weed out reckless walkers unable to pass periodic inspection tests.

Why not also sell baby buggy licenses? Why should an infant, at the very start of its existence, get the idea there are any free rides in life?

It might even be a good idea to put a $15 tax—split equally between local, state and federal governments—on birth itself, payable at the hospital by the parents before they would be allowed to take their child home.

A few other ideas: Taxes on girl watching. Taxes on park bench sitting. Philosophers such as Bernard Baruch might object to these, but those who use public services ought to pay at least part of the costs.

Taxes on umbrella carrying. The government might also consider compulsory liability insurance here for the victims of this vicious practice.

Taxes on the public wearing of Phi Beta Kappa keys and Rotary Club lapel buttons.

Taxes on flower pots. The only danger here is that city dwellers might choose to let their pots fall, and insist on being cut in for benefits under the federal soil bank program.

Special tax stamps to be affixed to letters written to Congress complaining about taxes.

When you get right down to it, the field of taxation is practically limitless. Anyone who thinks he's seen the end of new taxes just doesn't know what lies ahead.

Such as maybe a burial tax stamp. If you tax a guy for the privilege of going underground, isn't that really an inducement to make him want to keep on living?

Finding Economic Statesmanship

By George Sokolsky

This much is visible to the naked eye: Great Britain and West Germany are fully recovered economically and are strong in world markets; the Common Market is developing among six nations of Europe; the Free Market, including Commonwealth countries, is making some progress; Soviet Russia is becoming a mercantile country using capitalistic economies for socialist ends.

What is happening to the United States in the economic field? It is becoming increasingly clear that the United States has outpriced itself in all commodities. The theory of American industrial output, particularly in the consumer goods market, has been that the United States, by mass production, could pay higher wages, keep prices down and maintain a high standard of living. When that formula ceases to be correct, the economy of the United States is in difficulty. This is most apparent in the world market for automobiles into which good cars, well engineered but lower priced, are beginning to hurt the American-made car even in the American market. All sorts of explanations are given but the most correct is undoubtedly that the American car has outpriced itself.

When does a commodity outprice itself? Obviously when buyers' resistance asserts itself. It is as simple as that. The consumer determines the value of any commodity. Circumstances often assist the consumer. For instance women turned from silk stockings to the inferior rayon stockings during World War II. They could not get silk, but nylon also was not available. When the war was over, women did not return to silk but stayed with nylon. The standard stocking in the Western world is nylon, which is a durable commodity fairly priced.

But anybody can make nylon and it will all be of approximately the same quality. The question then becomes price. In the age of automatic machinery, the two principal factors in price are wages and taxes. Wages relate to the cost of living. In an inflationary economy wages are absurdly high and send costs rocketing.

Mass production by automatic machinery is adopted to reduce the labor cost, but it is unsound socially for a country to have a large unemployed population dependent upon state charity for support. This not only increases the tax burden of those who pay taxes but it develops discontent, anxiety, political demagoguery and abnormal conditions in the home.

While the slogan, machines make jobs, may be justified by long term economic history, it does not serve immediately, for those who are out of jobs know it and if their numbers are sufficiently large, in addition to being a social problem, they become a political menace, in the sense that they vote not with regard to the welfare of the country but solely for what they believe might be their private advantage. Thus, the political facade of the country deteriorates. Unemployment is a horrible social disease.

The American problem then is to find a price that will defend the American market from invasion or adopt a protective tariff or find a price that will keep our goods competitive in foreign markets. The first task in the handling of this problem is to keep the American dollar level. It has been supported by a 25 per cent gold reserve — the so-called Fort Knox deposit. All sorts of book-keeping are done these days in an attempt to prove that the $20,000,000,000 in gold is that reserve. But how much of that deposit should be on the liability side of the ledger? All that is earmarked for other countries! The fact is that based on a 1940 dollar, the 1959 dollar is worth about 48 cents in wages and in purchasing power.

Mobile American capital is leaving the United States in many different ways, either by investment in foreign businesses, or by the purchase of foreign securities or by deposits in Swiss, Dutch, Nassau and other foreign banks. All these become factors in the outpricing of the American commodity in world markets.

What is happening to our economy requires a statesmanly approach. It requires honesty of investigation and honesty of statement because the picture is not too pleasant in the sense that economically we are becoming isolated, more isolated than the America Firsters of pre-World War II days advocated. We have expended much of our wealth to avert isolation. What effect will economic isolation have upon our general status?

Why Wear Contact Lenses?

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Approximately 90,000,000 Americans wear glasses. Four million of these use contact lenses. That's about one out of every 45 persons in the country. This year the figure should be about one out of every 35.

More women than men (59 per cent to 41 per cent) wear these invisible lenses. Strangely, the majority of these women are white-collar workers. Actresses and models seem to be in the minority.

Why do these women want contact lenses? Vanity, of course, but that's only part of the answer.

A careful survey revealed that the six most important reasons why women chose contact lenses are:

1. To improve the self image.
2. Vanity and better vision.
3. Social activities.
4. Increased acceptance of contact lenses by the general public.
5. Freedom from spectacle frames.
6. The influence of men.

Forty-seven per cent of the women who wear contact lenses are in the 15 to 25-year age bracket; 45 per cent are 25 to 40; and 8 per cent are 40 to 65. The number of wearers in the latter age group increased 6 per cent last year, apparently because of the introduction of bifocal contacts.

Men wear contact lenses because:

1. They consider them less bother.
2. Masculine ego.
3. Better vision.
4. Athletic activities.
5. Influence of women.
6. They feel the contacts are advisable for various occupations.

About 27 per cent of the contact wearers are teenagers or in their pre-teen years.

The reasons listed by adolescents for wearing contacts are:

1. Vanity, which is present to a much stronger degree in teenagers than in adults.
2. Emotions—vanity borders on the emotional.
3. They think removal of spectacles will make them more socially acceptable.
4. They want to see well.
5. They want to participate in athletics on a par with others.
6. They see adults using these lenses.

Teenagers seem to adapt to contact lenses more quickly than adults. Generally, this is explained by their ability to accept changes more easily and their strong determination to hide their eye defects.

Basically, many persons who wear contact lenses are extroverts. Practitioners report that introverted patients usually develop marked out-going characteristics within the first six months after being fitted for contacts.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—There has been an unsurprising burst of harmony on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Western diplomats in Paris Thursday, preparing to meet the Soviets May 11 in Geneva, proclaimed full agreement among themselves on what they will talk about.

Earlier this week the Soviets and their European satellites met in Warsaw and proclaimed full agreement on their side.

The trouble with both displays of harmony:

1. The thoroughly cowed Soviet satellites could hardly do anything else but agree with whatever the Soviets want to say or demand at Geneva. So this harmony was window-dressing.

2. The Western diplomats — the United States, Britain, France and West Germany — could hardly afford not to show at least an outward sign of unity before the meeting with Gromyko.

Since the Westerners have been split for months on how to handle the Soviets, this sudden manifestation of sweet reasonableness and agreements may have a large element of window-dressing in it too.

The whole thing started last Nov. 27 when Premier Nikita Khrushchev gave the Allies six months — that would make the deadline May 27 — to get their troops out of Berlin.

He also wanted peace treaties signed with East and West Germany. But West Germany is linked with the Allies; the Allies would like to see all Germany linked with them; and therefore they have called for a united Germany.

Since in any free elections the West Germans doubly outnumber the East Germans, the result would be a united Germany that was pro-West. Khrushchev has said he would never let Communist East Germany get away.

All this adds up to a handsome set of difficulties in any negotiations between the West and the Soviet Union.

Western diplomats at Paris announced they had agreed on a package plan including these points:

Allied determination to stay put in Berlin until reunification between East and West Germany is achieved and a plan for controls, inspection and limitation of armaments in central Europe is worked out.

What isn't known is what the Allies will settle for — if anything — if the Soviets reject the package plan and insist that the Allies get out of Berlin.

So far the Allies have been on the defensive, put there by Khrushchev's November demands. And so far they haven't been able to think up anything to put him on the defensive. Up to now, therefore, the advantage has been all his.

Since the Geneva meeting later this month is supposed to be a preliminary and stage-setter for a summit meeting later, quite possibly both sides, while agreeing on nothing, will be on their good behavior.

A summit meeting would seem impossible if the foreign ministers at Geneva began the usual East-West program of mutual recriminations and denunciations.

Ohio Solon Serious About Nepotism Curb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) says he is serious about his bill to expose nepotism in government and in private businesses on federal subsidy.

At the same time, Hays defends his having two Ohio Democratic county chairmen on his own payroll.

Hays predicted Wednesday that the House Administration Committee will approve his bill instead of less drastic ones under consideration. While other bills would require public disclosure of relatives working for House members only, Hays wants to extend the requirement to the Senate, federal government agencies and government subsidized private businesses, he said.

Asked about a newspaper story saying the subcommittee he heads is trying to detour anti-nepotism legislation, and noting that he has the two county party chairmen on his payroll, Hays said the chairmen are not his relatives and that he sees nothing wrong in employing them.

They are Don Gosney of Columbiana County and Frank Vannelli of Belmont County. "Both of them were working for me before they became Democratic chairmen," Hays told a reporter. "Chairman jobs do not carry any salary," he stressed.

Rep. John E. Henderson (R-Ohio), author of an anti-nepotism bill that would affect House members only, said subcommittee hearings on his bill, presided over by Hays earlier this week, made it clear that little will be done about nepotism.

David, King of Israel

HE CAPTURED JERUSALEM AND ESTABLISHED IT AS THE NATION'S CAPITAL

Scripture—II Samuel 5-6; 8.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

IN OUR last lesson we learned that the boy David was chosen by the Lord to be king over Israel. Years later he was chosen by all the tribes, who came to him and said: "We are thy bone and flesh. Also in time past, when Saul was king over us, thou wast he that leddest out and broughtest in Israel: and the Lord said to thee, Thou shalt feed My people Israel, and thou shalt be a captain over Israel."—II Samuel 5:1-2.

"David was 30 years old when he began to reign, and . . . in Hebron he reigned over Judah seven years . . . and in Jerusalem he reigned 30 and three years over all Israel and Judah."—II Samuel 5:4-5.

Now we shall see how David ruled his people during those years. He did not always obey the laws of God. After Hiram, King of Tyre, sent messengers to him "and cedar trees, and carpenters, and masons; and they built David an house" (II Samuel 5:11), he took many wives and had many children whose names are listed in II Samuel 5:14-16. Of them all, only Solomon, later king, is known to us. Today we still refer to his wisdom, saying (of some man) that he is "as wise as Solomon."

Now we must tell briefly of the wars which the Israelites fought when David was king. "The last time we observed the Philistines, that powerful warlike people of the coast was in the overwhelming defeat of the Israelite host under the command of Saul. Apparently ruling this part of the land without opposition, and hearing that David had been anointed king of Israel, they were determined to stamp out this rival power, little realizing how foolish such a plan would prove to be." I quote from Dr. Wilbur M. Smith in Peelout's Select Notes, edited by him.

So the Philistines came "and spread themselves in the valley of Rephaim."—II Samuel 5:18. David took his problem to the Lord, asking Him, "Shall I go up to the Philistines? wilt thou deliver them into mine hand?" The Lord gave him permission and a great victory was won. The Philistines fled, leaving "their images, and David and his men burned them."—II Samuel 5:19-21.

Dr. Wilbur M. Smith suggests that the classes be reminded "that not all war is evil or useless; for example, our own nation was born out of the American revolution." However, today, with all the terrible, destructive weapons that have been invented, we must hope and pray that no wars will be fought, although there seems to be sporadic warfare going on in various parts of the world.

We have not space for David's further wars with his enemies, but we know God was with him always. Then David took 30,000 men and brought the Ark of the Lord to Jerusalem, out of the house of Abinadab, put it on a new cart and dragged it there. "And David and all the house of Israel played before the Lord on all manner of instruments" to celebrate its coming.—II Samuel 6:5.

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter made a sentimental journey today to a French school he attended more than half a century ago.

A band of youngsters gave him a rousing cheer as they marched in review in the same courtyard where young Chris Herter used to play.

Born of American parents living in Paris, Herter entered the famed Ecole Alsacienne in 1902, as a boy of 7. He studied there three years.

Now 64, Herter took time out today from the conference of Western foreign ministers to return to his old classroom. On the blackboard, in blue chalk and careful English, were the words "Welcome, Mr. Herter."

Georges Gallienne, president of the school's administrative council, led the visitor to the desk where he once sat. He showed him an old school registration book which mentioned him as a "tres bon eleve," a very good student. Gallienne gave Herter a history of the school and a commemorative medal.

The secretary's eyes glistened with emotion as he walked about the school.

"All men have two countries, their own and Paris," Herter told pupils massed in the courtyard.

"I believe that this phrase, which has been repeated millions of times, represents my own feelings."

Strangers Acting Bit Too Friendly

SAN CARLOS, Calif. (AP) — James Sanduval complained to police that two women and five men:

1. Parked their auto and two motorcycles in his driveway.
2. Removed the outdoor furniture from his garage and set it up in his patio.

3. Broke into the house, removed his liquor and sat comfortably around in the patio sipping highballs.

Worse, he said, they took the liquor with them when he surprised them upon his return from a movie Wednesday night. He had no idea who they were.

April Wedding Unites Miss Brown, Mr. Young

Seven-branched candelabra and a large bouquet of white gladioli with lavender chrysanthemums decorated the altar of First EUB Church when Miss Brenda Brown became the bride of Mr. Ted A. Young at 2:30 p. m. April 12.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Brown, Route 3, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young, Route 1, Stoutsville. The Rev. O. F. Gibbs officiated at the ceremony.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her brother, the Rev. Fred V. Brown, who gave her in marriage. The bride wore a white street-length gown designed by her mother. The skirt was of nylon chiffon in three tiers edged with lace worn over taffeta. The bodice was fashioned of chiffon velvet cut low in back with short sleeves and trimmed with lace. The rosette trim and sash were made of lavender silk. She carried a white Bible with white carnations tied with lavender rosettes. She wore a shoulder-length veil. Her only jewelry was a tiny floating oval necklace, a gift of the groom.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. John Brown, was the matron of honor; she wore a white and pale blue print dress and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Yellow mits and headband completed her costume. Miss Sandra Gibbs was the maid of honor; she wore a pale yellow organza dress, yellow mits and headband and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Anna May Stiers, bridesmaid, wore a full pink dotted dress with pink accessories and carried pink carnations. Mrs. Fred V. Brown, bridesmaid, wore a full blue silk organza dress; her bandeau and mits were pink. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Howard Young, the brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers included Mr. Ronald Hawkes, 343 E. Franklin St.; Mr. Paul Ealey, Waverly; and Mr. Emmitt Eppard, 425 Watt St.

Mrs. Brown, the mother of the bride, wore a navy lace dress. Her corsage was of red variegated carnations.

Mrs. Young, the mother of the groom, wore a navy suit and also a corsage of red variegated carnations.

At the reception which followed the ceremony in the EUB Service Center the table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake that was baked by the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Iretha Foulk, Canton. It was topped with a miniature bride and groom surrounded by fern and yellow chrysanthemums. Lighted candles were used. Hostesses were Mrs. O. F. Gibbs, Mrs. Viola Tigner and Mrs. Carlos Brown.

The bride changed into a navy suit for their short wedding trip. She is a 1958 graduate of Circleville High School. Mr. Young is a 1958 graduate of Walnut Township School. He is employed by the General Electric Co.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Trione Steinhauser and daughter, Delaware; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson, Cleveland; Mrs. Foulk, Canton; Mr. and Mrs. Neal Albin, Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Oyer, Waverly; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Aldenderfer Jr., Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Clements, Chillicothe; Mrs. Charles O'Day and daughter, Lancaster.

Jill Valentine Is Honored

Mrs. Richard Valentine, 424 Watt St., entertained her daughter Jill, yesterday with a party honoring her eleventh birthday.

A May pole with gifts on streamers was a part of the decoration. Games were played by the guests.

Invited were Bonnie and Jane Abbott, Kathy O'Brien, Sharon May, Suzanne Clark, Pam Speicher, Marie Montgomery, Margaret Lipps, Dorothy Sadler, Julie Samsrante, Cynthia Hang, Sharon Dawson, Shauna Humphrey, Kathy Owens, Joan Courtwright, Carol Johnson, Karen Lake and Jan Robertson.

Dinner Is Held For Mrs. Maxson

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Maxson, Route 1, Laurelville, entertained with a dinner Sunday honoring Mr. Maxson's mother, Mrs. Margaret Maxson, Hallsville, on her birthday.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Don Maxson, Malenia Lynn, Donald Jr. and Lonnie M., Route 1, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. David Luckhart and Tania Renee, Route 1, Laurelville; Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Maxson and Eric, Laurelville; and Mr. Roy Wadlington, Whisler.

Personals

Mrs. Margaret Maxson, Hallsville, has returned to her home after four weeks of private nursing in Kingston.

Ohio Atomic Employees To Get Pay Increase

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The 1,300 employees of Goodyear Atomic Corp.'s atomic plant in Piketon, Ohio, will receive a 10-cent hourly wage boost as a result of a new contract signed Wednesday. Harry Drenner, district director of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union, which represented the workers in negotiations, said the plant's new average wage rate will be $2.79 an hour.

Pond, Brown Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelson Pond, Port Washington, Long Island, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nancy Catherine, to Mr. Lloyd Eugene Brown Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Brown, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Miss Pond is a graduate of Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., and is now a senior at Syracuse University. She is a member of Chi Omega Sorority.

Mr. Brown is a senior at the State University Teachers College at Oswego, N. Y.

The wedding is to be an event of August 29.

Miss Pond's mother is the former Catherine Closson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Drew Closson, Circleville.

Emmett Chapel WSCS will meet at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. William Hildenbrand, Route 1, with Mrs. Robert Young as assisting hostess.

5 Anti-Amish Cases Thrown Out of Court

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—On a point of law, Judge Ralph Finley has dismissed five cases charging Amish parents with failure to send their children to approved schools.

Judge Finley said he acted, not on the merits of the case, but on a defense motion by attorney David Dowd Jr., of Massillon.

Dowd contended that affidavits filed against the parents on behalf of the county attendance officer did not state a cause of action, and if they did, the facts were not sufficient to support the cause.

"The state contended the children had not been sent to approved public, private or parochial schools, while we said the law states only that they be sent to schools meeting minimum educational standards prescribed by the State Board of Education," said Dowd. "We argued the word 'approved' did not mean anything. Approved by whom?"

Assistant Prosecutor James Patrick said Thursday "I don't know what the school board will do, but this is apparently a dead issue until school starts again."

Police Badge Number Is Vice Combination

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Patrolman Dick Neff of the police vice squad here helped nab two women in a raid on a numbers racket house Thursday. In investigating the place, Neff made an interesting discovery: His badge number—589—was the winning combination the day before.

Each year since 1949 more men than women died of cancer. The proportion is about 53 to 47. The American Cancer Society urges everyone to have an annual health checkup and to support the 1959 Crusade against cancer.

"Guard your family—Fight cancer with a checkup and a check" is the slogan of the American Cancer Society's 1959 Crusade.

Treat Family To Strawberry Cake

Bring out Strawberry Shortcake for dessert, then sit back and enjoy the smiles and compliments. The base of this dessert is a lovely, light, lemon-flavored cake, baked in a square pan. Squares are split to accommodate two layers of luscious berries.

Fresh Strawberry Shortcake
2½ cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups sugar
½ cup shortening (at room temperature)
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
2 eggs, unbeaten
6 cup heavy cream
2 quarts fresh strawberries, sliced and sweetened
Measure sifted flour into sifter;

add baking powder, salt and sugar.

Stir shortening in mixing bowl just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add ¾ cup of the milk and mix until all flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes at a low speed of electric mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand.

Add rind, eggs, and remaining milk and beat 1 minute longer in mixer or 150 strokes by hand. Pour batter into 9x9x2-inch square pan, which has been lined on the bottom with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 to 50 minutes. Cool; then split to make two thin layers.

Whip cream until thick and shiny; sweeten, if desired. Spread strawberries generously between layers and on top of cake. Garnish with whipped cream and whole berries. Makes 9 servings.

Young Couple, Infant Killed by Gas Fumes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If the gas company had stopped service a day sooner, Robert Burton, 18, his wife, Sophie, 16, and their daughter, Judy, four months, might be alive today.

Their bodies were found by police Thursday in the apartment where they had lived only six days. They apparently died of carbon monoxide fumes from an unlit gas heater Wednesday night, officers said.

Sometime after 9 o'clock the next morning, carbon monoxide stopped flowing from the heater when the gas was turned off for non-payment of a bill.

2 Men Killed, Lima Area Crash

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—An automobile carrying five men spun out of control and into the opposite lane of traffic on U. S. 30 Thursday. Two men were killed and the other three seriously injured when a trailer-truck smashed into the car's rear end.

Dead are Frank G. Breece, 56, of Middlepoint in Van Wert County, and Frank Brendehoff, 69, of Delphos, on the Van Wert-Allen County line.

Sheriff's deputies said Ralph E. Warneke, 33, of Delphos, apparently lost control of the car when he tried to brake it. Two vehicles in front of him had come to sudden stops when a third vehicle slowed to turn into a driveway deputies explained.

Rail Brakeman Awarded $125,000 for Injuries

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A brakeman for the Erie Railroad Co. won a $125,000 personal injury suit against both the railroad and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. Thursday. The award to Joseph J. Grande, 28, was one of the largest ever handed out by a Mahoning County Common Pleas Court. Grande sought $200,000.

Grande was riding on a car derailed by scrap metal on the tracks and was hurled into an other car on an adjacent track. His injuries were serious, extensive and permanent, his petition said.

U.S. Executives Plentiful in Geneva Now

Switzerland Is Mecca
For Many Business
Officials These Days

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) —

The junior executive, American style, is becoming almost as much a part of the Geneva scene today as of mid-Manhattan's.

In the past few months American firms have rushed to set up headquarters here to run either their European or entire overseas operations. More than 75 are here now, taxing Geneva's office and residential facilities and competing—often by higher wages—for the best office help.

The influx has been spurred about equally by the coming of the jet age, by the birth of the European common market and by a steady decline in U.S. exports due to rising prices of American-made goods which is overcome by operating abroad.

But their choice of Geneva for central offices has many other guiding factors.

One is its transport facilities and location, easy of access to their plants all over Europe and to their markets there and in Africa and the Mideast.

Another is its worldwide banking facilities—cloaked in secrecy by law—and the ease with which currency from any part of the world can be exchanged, either for Switzerland's hard money or for American dollars that can be sent home without hindrance.

Swiss neutrality is an advantage. An American businessman here steps on no toes—as he might in some other European country whose relations with other parts of the world may be strained.

Taxes are big item, too. They are less than in the United States, and often less than elsewhere in Europe—both for the corporation and the individual employee. For example, a firm making $50,000 profit on its Swiss operations (it pays no income tax on outside operations) would pay $4,000 in federal tax and $8,000 in canton and communal taxes (these are higher in some other Swiss cities). In the United States the corporation income tax runs to 52 per cent.

Some of the big firms here are: Chrysler, California Standard Oil, Daystrom, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, General Dynamics, I.B.M., Monsanto Chemical, Procter and Gamble, R.C.A., Royal Mc Bee, Singer, Underwood, Union Carbide, and Westinghouse.

How do American firms fare here?

They can find office help that speak two or three languages and a city with one of the highest standards of living in Europe. But it also has among the highest rents, a housing shortage, and high food costs.

You can't have everything.

Wheat Rebel Chief Loses Court Bond

CLEVELAND (AP)—The federal government has foreclosed on a bond posted by Dr. P. Scott Whiteleather of Minerva, leader of Ohio's "wheat rebels."

A $646 judgment representing two years of penalties was assessed by the government against Whiteleather for overplanting wheat quotas on his farm in Columbiana County. It includes interest, costs and fees. The $646 will be deducted from a $1,000 bond posted by the physician-farmer to regain custody of his seized automobile.

Whiteleather, president of the Independent Farmers of Ohio, appealed on the issue of the government's right to seize personal property to satisfy a wheat penalty. The Sixth Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals at Cincinnati ruled against him last month and he did not carry the case further.

Seizure of the physician's automobile was the first case in Ohio that personal property had been impounded to satisfy a wheat penalty.

Assistant U.S. Atty. William J. O'Neill said the government made an example of Whiteleather.

"He was the protagonist," O'Neill said. "The government couldn't be in the position of being pushed around."

The attorney said he anticipates no drive to cash in on similar judgments.

"Liens have been filed and we will get the money when they sell," he explained. "In any event, we will not seize real estate."

Judge Calls In Additional Jurors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fifty more prospective jurors have been ordered into court, and possibly some will be selected to weigh the fate of 21-year-old David Stanley Smith, charged with the slaying and attempted rape of an expectant mother.

The victim was Mrs. Janice Ora Porter, 24, a neighbor of Smith. Eleven jurors have been tentatively seated.

With only 20 of the original 75-member venire still to be considered for jury seats, Common Pleas Judge Kenneth L. Sater ordered 50 more prospective jurors to appear for service today.

Oil Companies In Paris Under Close Control

First Rule Is To Aid French Economy, Then Benefit Stockholders

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
PARIS (AP) — Few American firms operating in France are under closer government control than the oil companies. They must follow rules aimed first at aiding the French economy and only second at making money for American stockholders.

That is because France needs more oil all the time. But oil imports are one of the chief drains of its gold and dollar reserves — until recently in almost constant jeopardy. Oil gets special scrutiny.

But Americans have learned to live with the rules. They are expanding their operations in France. They are joining up with the French to exploit oil deposits in the Sahara Desert. And they agree with French oil companies — some wholly government owned and some only partly so — that the future of the oil industry in France looks bright.

France has some oil fields in the southwest part of the country, but gets most of its supply from the Mideast, where French companies are active, and some from Venezuela. Even if the Sahara oil comes up to the most optimistic expectations — and that's far from sure yet — France will still need to import oil.

American firms coming here must build refineries. France wants to import only crude oil, which costs fewer dollars or pounds. It imports aviation gas and asphalt but few other oil products.

One American company here for some time — Esso Standard S.A.F., an affiliate of Jersey Standard Oil — built a refinery to get in, joining in the venture with Gulf Oil and Atlantic Refining. Later Jersey brought out Atlantic Refining and now owns 63 per cent of its affiliate. Gulf owns 18½ per cent. And the remaining shares are held by French interests. Esso has recently opened a new and larger refinery near Bordeaux.

The parent company, Jersey Standard, has applied for rights to prospect in the Sahara, on a 50-50 basis with the Compagnie Francaise des Petroles, which is one-third owned by the French government.

Other foreign companies entering into similar Sahara projects are Phillips Petroleum, Sinclair, an Indiana Standard Oil subsidiary, a Cities Service subsidiary, Royal Dutch, Shell and British Petroleum.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Call Her Hand and Reshuffle

DEAR ABBY: Our family often gets together and plays a friendly game of poker. We play for a few cents just to make it interesting but nobody wins or loses enough to make any difference. My husband noticed that our daughter — in — law cheats. When she gets the cards, she deals off the bottom to herself. We are heartsick because we never thought she was that kind of a girl. Should we mention it to our son, or let it go? It's hard for me to look her in the face.

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Don't mention it to her husband, but DO mention it to the girl. Tell her what you've observed. Reshuffle the deck and give her a chance at a new deal.

DEAR ABBY: I certainly didn't agree with your remarks regarding children answering the telephone. I have six children whose ages range from ten months to nine years and there are times when the telephone rings and I have my hands in dishwater or am bathing the baby and can't answer it myself. So what's wrong with letting one of the children answer it for me to find out who is calling? How else will children learn how to talk on the telephone? If people who call me do not have the patience to visit a little while with my children, they needn't bother to call me again.

DEAR BUSY: Children who are old enough to speak so that they can be understood and to take a message properly certainly should answer the phone. I had reference to little ones who pick up the receiver and say, "WHO IS THIS?" eight or ten times. There are too many telephones for youngsters who wish to play.

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for the letter concerning children answering the telephone. I am a telephone operator and know the time and money that's wasted every day by this foolishness. Can you imagine someone calling clear across the country station — to station for a three minute call to get little curly-head on the other end with a "goo-goo" or a "day-da"? Half the 3 minutes is wasted trying to get the silly mother on the phone. Mothers should answer the telephone themselves to see who's calling and if it's "Da Da" or "Ha Ha" calling, hand the phone to the kid and let him teeth on it. Gee!

TELEPHONE OPERATOR

DEAR ABBY: I recently read the story of a brutal murder of a child who was "selling" something for a good cause. I think it is morally wrong to encourage children to approach strangers to buy cookies, candy, tickets, etc. Too many of our tots are molested even in the better neighborhoods. All kids are eager to gain recognition for their troop or school and will ring doorbells and enter buildings in happy anticipation of a sale. Fear is unknown to them. When my girls were Scouts I sold the boxes of cookies they begged home. Maybe I spoiled their fun but I breathed easier. (I also gained a reputation from my good neighbors, co-workers and relatives as a "merchant pest.") I no longer buy anything from a child because I believe that I am helping to put an end to this dangerous exploitation of our children. Thanks for listening.

MRS. A. M.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Pickaway Grange Report

LOGAN ELM GRANGE

Logan Elm Grange met Tuesday evening at Pickaway Twp. School. Worthy Master Robert Valentine conducted the business meeting.

The grange voted to send a donation to an appeal for aid. Discussion on changing our meetings to one a month or possible consolidation with another grange was the main topic of the evening.

Master Valentine appointed a committee of three, Hoyt Timmons, Frank Graves, and Wayne Jones to be in charge of such a move.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Timmons are to be Gate keepers at the State Ritualistic contest to be held at Scioto Grange on May 2. Pomona Grange will be held at Scioto Grange Friday evening May 1.

Mrs. Phillip Wilson, Home Economics chairman, was in charge of Literary program and Baking and Sewing Contest. Miss Dorothy List, Home Demonstration agent of Hocking County, was the judge for the Brownies and aprons.

Woman Swims For Help for Trapped Kin

HYNDMAN, Pa. (AP) — "It was a horrible experience, but thank God my husband and children are all right."

So exclaimed Mrs. Nellie Bridges of Corringanville, Md., Wednesday after she dived into a rain-swollen stream to summon aid for her husband and three children, trapped in their partially submerged auto.

Mrs. Bridges, 41, who was driving, said she missed a curve on a country road near the Pennsylvania-Maryland line about 20 miles southwest of Bedford, Pa., and the car plunged into the creek.

Mrs. Bridges said: "We were in about five feet of water in mid-stream. The water was very cold but I kept on going. I hadn't swam for more than 23 years, long before I was married. But I knew I had to reach shore."

She ran about half a mile to a farmhouse and phoned for help.

Two volunteer firemen swam to the car and brought the father and children to shore.

Winners were — Brownies: 1st Carolyn Valentine, 2nd Odessa Wright, 3rd Nettie Wilson; Apron — Ursel Graves.

Miss List gave an educational talk on the latest freezers and other appliances. Refreshments were served by the Home Economics committee.

The next meeting will be May 5. Mrs. Luther List, juvenile matron, will be the program chairman.

SALT CREEK VALLEY

Saltcreek Valley Grange was called to order by Worthy Master Philip Judy.

During the business meeting Appeals for Aid were answered. And an increased donation was allowed to the Pickaway County Advisory Council for 4-H encouragement in the county.

Mrs. Nellie Mowery, a home economics committee member, announced that the Brownie Contest would be at the next regular meeting.

Each Grange is asked to donate food at the State Ritualistic Contest on May 2, to be held at Scioto Grange. The Granges in the county will serve stock sale dinner on June 3.

The remainder of the evening was spent in preparing for the District Ritualistic Contest to be held at Frankfurt.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Russel Miller, Mr. and Mrs. James Arledge, Mr. and Mrs. John Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hartley and Mrs. Viola Hart-ranft.

U. S. Shelves High Flights In Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has tentatively decided to send no more high-altitude planes to West Berlin — for the next few weeks.

Some officials were urging today a review of this decision in the light of a new Soviet challenge. The Soviet Union disputed again Wednesday the American view that such flights are perfectly legal.

Most authorities appeared ready, however, to stand by the temporary ban to avoid further controversy in advance of meetings with the Soviet Union.

The temporary halt was decided upon last week jointly by the State and Defense departments in a confidential review.

They took the decision mainly because of Britain's misgivings that further flights above the 10,000-foot level might look as if the West were deliberately trying to provoke an incident which might torpedo East-West talks on the future of Berlin and Germany.

One Miss America, at Least, Built Good Career on Title

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

What happens to the Miss Americas of years past? These girls, selected as the American ideal of talent and beauty, reign for a year in a blaze of international publicity, are feted, photographed, flattered and interviewed.

Spreng Slated For Return to Ohio Court

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A man charged with taking $25,000 in a Hamilton, Ohio, bank robbery in March is in the Harris County Jail, awaiting transfer to Ohio.

Frank Lawrence Spreng, 29, was brought here from Laredo, Tex., where Mexican authorities surrendered him to a deputy U.S. marshal on April 15.

Mexican security police arrested Spreng while he was fishing near a Yucatan resort.

Mrs. Kathryn Matthews, chief deputy U.S. marshal, would not say when Spreng will be transferred from Houston to Ohio. Departmental regulations, she said, prevent her from releasing such information.

Federal officials said a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution was filed against Spreng after he escaped from an Akron, Ohio, jail while awaiting trial on a charge of robbing an Akron cafe of $1,490.

Runaway Girl Is Found in Chorus Line

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—L. D. (Big Red) Webster, a Dallas businessman attending a convention here, found his 16-year-old runaway stepdaughter in the chorus line of a French Quarter night club.

Angered and shocked, Webster slipped from the club and returned minutes later with two policemen.

The officers stopped music and dancers, arrested the owner on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The girl was placed in a convent.

Webster, former sports editor, is vice president in charge of public relations and advertising for the Lone Star Steel Co.

His pretty, blonde stepdaughter, Lydia Hayes, ran away from home April 2 after having trouble with her grades in school. She came here and was hired as a dancer at the club.

Saul Owens, 42, owner of the club, told officers he did not know Lydia was a juvenile.

Owens said the girl produced an affidavit stating she was over 18. The girl first identified herself as "Toni Lamarr" but later admitted her identity. Webster said it was the third time she had run away.

Then comes another year, another Miss America, and the former queen usually drops from sight.

A notable exception is a tall, competent brunette named Bess Myerson, who was Miss America in 1945, and has built a career on this fact.

For the last seven years Bess has been commentator, hostess, fashion coordinator and general Girl Friday for the TV perennial The Big Payoff. Before that she had her own TV show and did numerous guest appearances. At present she is recording a piano album for MGM. And in between times she spends a great deal of time in philanthropic work and pals around with her 11-year-old daughter Barbara.

"You can't be Cinderella forever," she says. "I guess I realized that when I won the Miss America title. I knew when the clock struck 12 my day would be over, unless I had something else to offer besides nominally good looks."

Almost from the outset Bess decided to make her title mean something. She was asked to make a series of speeches at high schools in and around Chicago, to try to help solve some of the juvenile problems that plagued the postwar world.

"I became intensely interested in this," says Bess. "I found boys and girls would listen to me because I was nearer their own age level, and also because of the glamor of the Miss America title. I was in Chicago about a month, speaking at two high school assemblies each day, and then later I did the same thing in other parts of the country."

Bess hopes to continue her piano work and perhaps do a Broadway show soon. But whatever happens, she intends to keep busy with her work of helping young people.

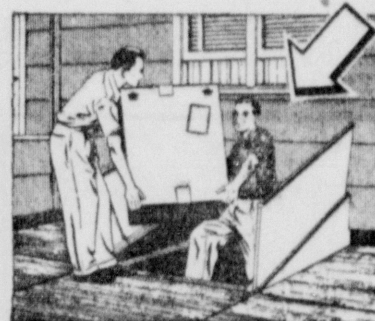

"It's a kind of way of paying back for all my blessings," she says.

U. S. Attorney Asks Fine Against B&O Railroad

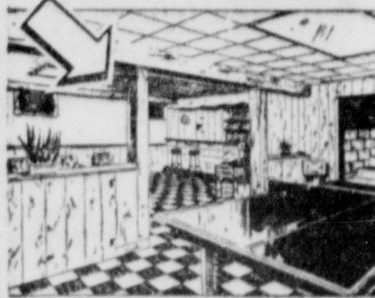

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Asst. U. S. Atty. Richard Colasurid has asked U.S. District Court to levy a $500 fine against the Lima Division of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad for permitting an employee to work in violation of the federal hours of service act.

Colasurid said the railroad permitted Norman E. Williams to work 16 hours in a 24-hour period on Nov. 11 and 12 between Toledo and Lima without the required eight hours of rest.

THIS WAY

TO A MODERN BASEMENT

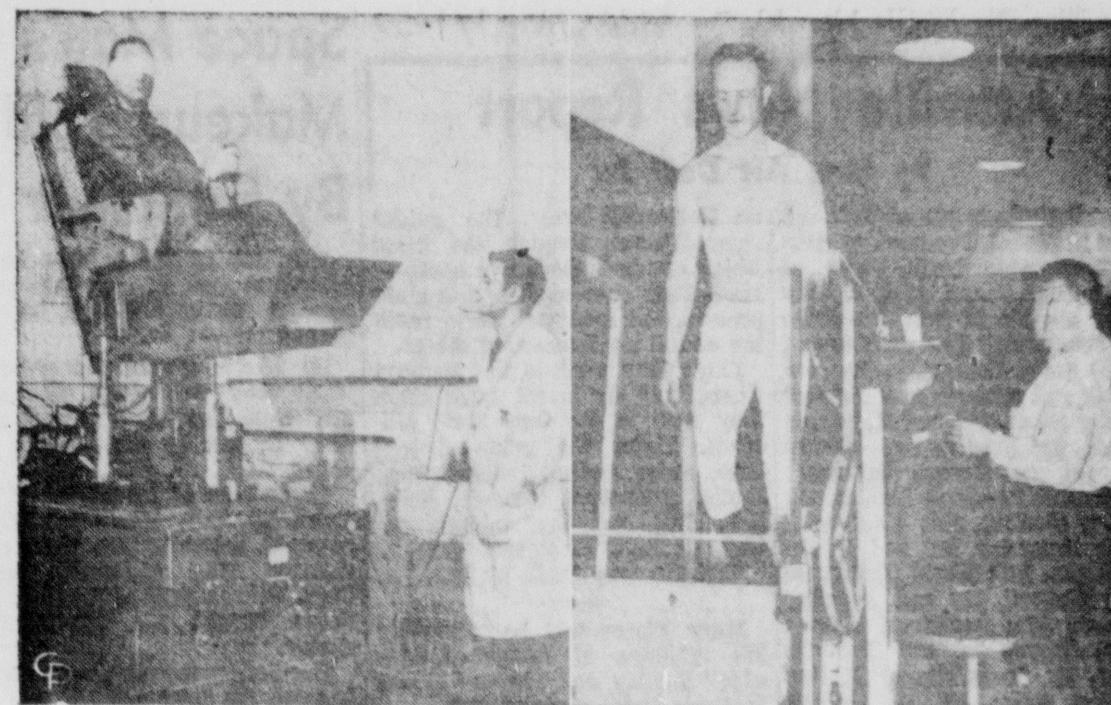

You'll want that dream basement in your new home. A truly modern basement for recreation, hobbies and storage. Here is the key to it — an all metal weathertight Bilco. It supplements the inside stair to give you wide, direct access. Keeps messy traffic out of first floor rooms. Makes storage easy. Provides the route to safety in an emergency.

A Bilco is the modern replacement for that old worn-out wood hatchway on your present home.

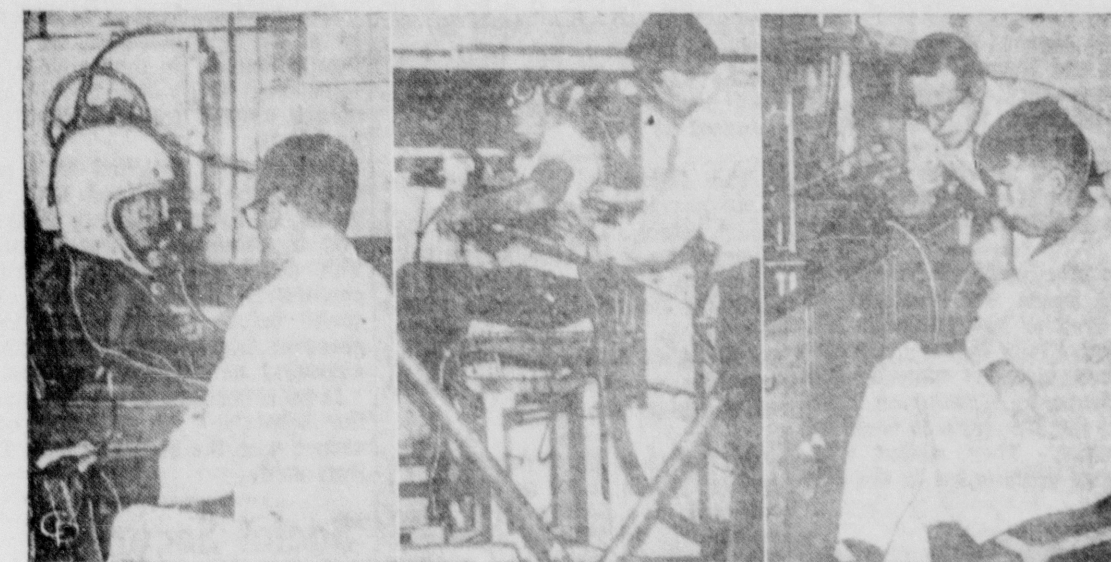

Call us for free "How-to-install-it" folder, or we can suggest a competent workman.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Art Deal Jr.

Several students placed first and second in recent Preliminary District Scholarship Tests given at Ashville High School April 2. They will be eligible to take the State Final Scholarship Test on May 2nd at Ohio State University. The top students and subjects are: English 9—Kathy Stout, 108 and Katherine Gardner, 93; English 10—Marty Dore, 101 and Teresa Cummins, 103; English 11—Jack Lemon, 103 and Gay Gosling, 101; English 12—Linda Cummins, 110 and Velma Alice Kuhn, 107; World History—James McCord, 122 and Dorothy Dickinson, 111; American History—Carol Baum, 96 and Patricia Frazier, 90; Senior Social Studies—Velma Kuhn, 98 and Robert Featheringham, 96; Biology—James McCord, 87 and Clyde Campbell, 79; Physics—Howard Newton, 91 and John Noecker, 90; General Science—David Newton, 90 and Weston Flierl, 90; Algebra I—Kathy Stout, 30 and Mary Jamison, 26; Algebra II—Patty Frazier, 18 and Howard Newton, 18; Geometry—Jack Smith, 20, Dorothy Dickinson, 19 and Michael Purcell, 19; Spanish I—Kathy Stout, 78 and Sharlene Love, 72; and Spanish II—Dorothy Dickinson, 93 and Harry Rainey, 84.

Miss Martha Mary Brinker of Dayton spent the weekend of April 17 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brinker. On Sunday they attended church and had dinner in Wilmington celebrating the Brinker's 45 wedding anniversary. They visited with friends in Wilmington in the afternoon.

Miss Carolyn Stout, a 1959 graduate of Ashville-Harrison High School, was recently elected vice president of the Women's Residence Council at Capital University to serve for the 1959-60 school year. This organization, which is the representative body of all women residents, governs activities and establishes policies. As vice president, Carolyn also will serve as chairman of the Judiciary Committee which hears disciplinary cases involving infractions of residence rules and procedures. WRC is a member of the Intercollegiate Assn. of Women Students, a national organization of college women's government bodies.

Miss Ruby Miller returned home Sunday from Mercy Hospital after undergoing surgery on April 21. Her condition is improved.

The sixth grade class of Ashville Elementary School visited places of interest in Columbus April 8, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Felix Dore and the following mothers: Mrs. Emerson Dum, Mrs. Jesse Miller, Mrs. William Trimble, Mrs. William Fortner, Mrs. Kenneth Sampson and Mrs. Wade Shreve.

Their first stop was the Wesleyan University Press. The guides showed them through the plant which covered about five acres of land. They showed them the giant presses, the artists at work, mailing and many interesting things.

Later they went to the stadium where they ate lunch. After lunch they went to the Ohio State Museum. There the guide showed them many ancient Indian bones, skulls, mummies, wagons, dolls, fish, birds, and other animals and ways of living in pioneer days.

The trip was made by bus.

Mary Pierce will be attending the "College of Beauty Knowledge" Sunday and Monday at the Southern Hotel in Columbus.

This is an advanced training in shaping, styling and permanent waving.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Leatherwood are parents of a son born Thursday morning, April 23, in Mercy Hospital. The baby has been named Robert Neil and weighed six pounds and eight ounces at birth.

The father of Mrs. Emerson Abts passed away Saturday of a heart attack. The Abts were former residents of Ashville and Rev. Abts was the former pastor of the Ashville Methodist Church. Those wishing to extend their sympathy to the Abts family may write to the following address: 98 Crestview, Columbus, Ohio.

All ladies of the community are invited to join in for an evening of fun with the Ladies Gym Class being held on Monday evening in the Ashville High School auditorium from 7:30 to 8:30.

THE ASHVILLE Concert Band journeyed to Columbus Sunday and presented a variety show and concert at the Scout-O-Rama held at the Ohio State Fairgrounds. Several parents accompanied the group.

Miss Rebecca Stout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stout, entered White Cross Hospital Tuesday for observation and a run of tests. Becky is a third grade student in the Ashville Elementary School.

The following boys were selected from Ashville High School to represent the school in the track meets this year. They are as follows: Larry Hicks, Bob Hoover, Jim Franks, Frank Welsh, Dick Fout, Willard Clemmens, Dale Fout, Jim McNeal, Howard Newton, Bill Cromley, Steve Stover, Jim Brown, and Dick Hollenback. The track team is coached by Lawrence Fullen.

The senior girls of Ashville High School will be guests of the Ashville Women's Civic Club when they meet Thursday evening, May

Space Man's Makeup Told By Examiner

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—America's first man into space is probably a cautious driver on the ground.

He likely spans his children when they misbehave. He gets mad from time to time and may show it, but he can control his anger.

That's part of the picture of the seven top U.S. space candidates reported today by the chief psychiatrist who examined them, Capt. George Ruff of the U.S. Air Force Wright Air Development Center.

The first space pilot is free from impulse. He isn't likely to pop off to superiors or go absent without leave.

After all, Dr. Ruff said, you don't want him deciding to try a few maneuvers in the middle of an orbit around the earth.

The first space man is generally a warm father—but he isn't family bound. He forms close relationships easily—but he can also detach himself from his family if he has to.

But he isn't satisfied with routine, or the established way. He wants to fly the newest aircraft and to establish a new frontier. You could call him a creative conformist, Dr. Ruff said. He spoke before the American Psychiatric Assn. annual meeting and answered newsmen's questions.

Is he concerned about death and the hereafter? He is more concerned with the here and now, Dr. Ruff said.

'Social Security' Aide Sent to Ohio

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—A 24-year-old magazine salesman Wednesday was ordered removed to Dayton, Ohio, on charges of impersonating a Social Security agent.

Lester L. Hawk of South Charleston, Ohio, is charged with the offense at Piqua, Ohio.

Hawk was arrested April 22 in Grand Rapids. The warrant alleges he posed as an agent of the Social Security department and took money from Piqua residents, promising he could get them additional benefits.

7 at 8 p. m. for their monthly meeting in the Ashville Methodist Church basement.

Mrs. Nalla Senathirajah, a married student at Ohio State University, will be guest speaker. She will show films of her native Ceylon.

Punch and cookies will be served following the program. Hostesses are Mrs. Charles Heller, Mrs. Oscar Ward, and Mrs. Vera Trone.

Star Reveals She Tells Lies

Susy Parker Is Mum About Her Marriage

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—A lovely paradox is Susy Parker, back in Hollywood after a year that was marked by tragedy and sensation.

On June 7 last year, she was pitched through the windshield of a car in a collision with a train in Florida. Her father was killed in the crash. A Frenchman named Pierre la Salle rushed to her side. After much backing and filling, it was admitted that they were married.

This was the actress who had told interviewers: "I will never marry. I admire men too much."

She has returned here to make "The Best of Everything" for Jerry Wald, her stunningly beautiful face unmarked by the accident. Some explanations were in order.

"I'm going to keep my mouth shut," she said at first. Then in the next breath, she admitted, "I talk too much. It's a family affliction. When we have a family reunion, it is pure chaos."

Yet she did no talking about her marriage during her previous visits here. Why did she keep it secret?

"When we got married, I was not news," she explained. "When I got into the movies, I felt that our marriage was something between my husband and myself. It was nobody else's business."

"I realize that in America it is the custom to tell all about the private life of a celebrity. But my husband is not an American. In Europe, that is not the custom, and it doesn't particularly help him in his profession (as staffer for Paris Watch magazine) to have a lot of Hollywood publicity."

"Also, I don't feel that I want to share my marriage with the world. So I lie about it."

Second Strangler Ordered To Die

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Luis Moya must die in the gas chamber for his part in the strangulation of nurse Olga Duncan.

A jury so decreed Wednesday night. Moya is the final member of a trio convicted of first-degree murder in the slaying of the 30-year-old pregnant nurse.

Moya and Augustine Baldonado said they were hired to kill the Canadian-born nurse by Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, the victim's intensely jealous mother-in-law. The two men kidnaped her from her Santa Barbara, Calif., apartment last Nov. 17, strangled her and dumped the body in a roadside grave.

Mrs. Duncan and Baldonado are awaiting automatic review of their death sentences.

Pike, Chemical Treatment Cut Stunted Fish

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Pike and fish-killing chemicals, mixed in the right proportions, appear to be the best formula yet devised to put a checkrein on oversupplies of panfish in warmwater lakes of Michigan and similar states.

For years, fishermen have complained about the stunted bluegills, perch and other panfish three or four inches long that made up the bulk of their catch in many lakes. Too many fish competing for too little food was the obvious reason.

Removal of size limits and boosting creel limits on most panfish helped some, but not enough.

After three years of experimenting on 25 or 30 lakes in the southern two-thirds of the Lower Peninsula, Michigan fish experts are convinced they're on the right track in finding an answer to the problem.

Chemicals were only part of the answer. Fish populations gradually built back to levels before chemical treatment and continuous treatment was obviously out of the question.

A natural predator to act as a year-around "policeman" on panfish populations clearly was called for. That's where the pike, a meat-eating fish, came into the picture.

From about 1,000 brood stock, many thousands of pike have been spawned in controlled marshes in some 15 lakes. When they become fingerlings, they're released in chemically treated lakes.

Los Angeles Aides' Cigar-Smoking Hit

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—Mayor Norris Poulson says there are too many loafers and cigar smokers in Los Angeles street maintenance crews.

Noting many complaints about street workers standing around smoking cigars, Poulson said, "Everyone knows it takes a long time to smoke a cigar, and the amount of loafing this suggests is simply shocking."

NEW NAVY FLAG AND MISSILE—President Eisenhower signed an executive order giving the U.S. Navy its first official flag in its 184-year history. The flag is a dark blue banner 4 feet, 4 inches high and 5 feet, 6 inches wide with a 2½-inch yellow fringe. The Navy Department has announced in Washington that the Bullpup, an air-to-surface missile, has been deployed with the attack carrier USS Lexington, en route to the Seventh Fleet in the Pacific. Five of the supersonic missiles may be carried by the FJ-4B jet aircraft, one of which is shown (above) flying with Bullpup missiles slung under its wings.

Fatal Scalding Probe Continues

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Prosecutor Harry Friberg said today he is conducting a further investigation of the fatal scalding of 7-year-old Vonita Roubidoux by her step-mother.

The tot died April 12, a day after Mrs. Rita Roubidoux, 31, put her in a tub of hot water as punishment for bed wetting. Mrs. Roubidoux said she didn't realize the water was that hot.

This week, Coroner Paul Hohly returned a verdict of accidental death.

Friberg said he feels a more complete investigation may turn up additional evidence which might justify presenting the case to the grand jury.

Strong Pitching, Solid Hitting Give Tigers 7-1 Win

Sound pitching and solid hitting gave Circleville's Tiger baseballers a 7-1 victory over Hilliards here yesterday in a Central District Class AA test.

Pitcher Joe Adkins hurled perhaps his best game of the season as he allowed only two hits, both singles, and blazed his fast ball and sinking curves for 17 strikeouts, a high mark for the Tigers this year.

Adkins strong pitching effort was aided by eight hits on the part of his teammates, with five of the bingles coming in a big second inning.

The Tigers scored once in the first stanza and roared back with six in the second in a game which was halted by rain for about 15 minutes in the sixth inning. Hilliards tallied its single unearned run in the second to briefly knot the count at 1-1.

Patterson Set To Risk Crown

Briton Could Spoil Champion's Record

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Floyd Patterson risks his world heavyweight championship and a half-million-dollar June purse to-night in a 15-round title fight against belittled Brian London of England.

This regally garbed "tuneup" session could turn into a monumental disaster for the 24-year-old American if the burly Briton should get lucky and knock out or outpointed the champion.

NBC will broadcast and telecast the fight nationally at 10 p.m. EDT.

Patterson, making his fourth title defense, is a prohibitive 10-1 choice to win.

London the husky ex - British champ, will collect $60,000 for his efforts.

Brian, 24, is a 6-foot, 205-pounder with strong legs and fast hands. He apparently punches faster with his right than Pete Rademacher and Roy Harris, a couple of challengers who decked Patterson in title fights before being put out of commission.

The 183-pound titleholder, however, is much faster afoot and with his hands, Floyd should wreck the aggressive, wide-open London with dazzling combinations to that inviting jaw.

A London triumph — which nobody is predicting — would knock Patterson out of his scheduled June 25 defense against Sweden's Ingemar Johansson at New York's Yankee Stadium. Patterson, who goes over the million dollar mark in earnings with tonight's purse of $500,000 or more against the Swede.

Jets Downed By Rochester

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The bad news that has kept Foster Castleman from sticking in the major leagues doesn't appear to bother his early season batting in the International League.

The former New York Giant and Baltimore Oriole infielder, now with Miami is the league's top hitter with a hefty .438 average after getting three hits, including a 2-run homer, Thursday night although his team lost to Montreal 5-3.

Despite his team's loss, the Marlins still retained a one game edge on the Columbus Jets which lost to Rochester 7-1. Richmond defeated Buffalo 8-7 in the only other scheduled IL game.

Peter Alliss of England won the Italian, Portuguese and Spanish Open golf crowns in 1958.

Saltcreek Takes Crown in Track

Saltcreek unseated defending Pickaway County track champion Ashville, to cop the 1959 edition of the county track meet held at Capital University, Columbus, yesterday.

The Warriors of Saltcreek amassed 63 1-3 points to runner-up Ashville's, 48. Williamsport placed third with 36 points. Ashville won the meet last year with 54 points.

Trailing the top three were Darby, 21 1-3, Scioto, 19 5-6, Pickaway, 18, Walnut, 3, and Monroe with held scoreless. The meet started on a fast track that became sluggish before the meet's end as it was finished in a downpour of spring rain.

Saltcreek's Gary Valentine concluded his fabulous high school athletic career in a blaze of glory, racking up 22 points to lead all meet contenders.

VALENTINE BARELY edged teammate Jack Fout, who tallied with 21 points. Fout would have tied Valentine had it not been for a mix-up in the broad jump.

A ruling by track official, Jack Landrum, to reopen the broad jump for those who wished to continue, allowed Scioto's Dickie Melvin to capture the event after Ashville's Fout had previously been ruled the winner.

Melvin was the only man to re-jump the event. Other contestants were not notified of the ruling. Melvin had previously been fourth. This moved Saltcreek's Fout back third place, thereby dropping a point.

By virtue of this first, his only one of the meet, Melvin became the third top scorer with 18 points. Bobby Hoover, sensational Ashville junior athlete, was fourth with 17 points.

No records were set. Hoover, who had high jumped 6' 1" in earlier season practice, was forced to abandon a try for the record due to slippery grounds.

Walnut's Wardwick holds the record at 6' 1 1/2". Hoover nearly eclipsed the 180-yard low hurdles record of 22.4 with his 22.7 winning mark in the event yesterday.

VALENTINE won the mile in 4:54.6 and the half-mile in 2:12. In both races, Valentine paced himself exceptionally well and saved his renowned "kick" until needed to win going away in both events.

His pole vault victory was registered at 9' and further efforts to top the record of 11' were thwarted by the rain. John Drummond, The Yankees averaged 3,335 fans for 14 exhibition games at Al Lang Field, St. Petersburg, Fla., last spring. None of the other 11 teams training in Florida approached this figure.

Martin Enters Lebanon Opening

Porter Martin, Route 3, local harness horse owner, trainer and driver, has entered two head in the opening of the Lebanon Raceway tomorrow at 8:15 p. m.

Martin's Go Pilot will compete in the fifth race, a 23-24 Pace over one mile. The eighth race will find Martin's Chet Lynn Tillie in a C Pace over a one mile track.

Martin will drive both horses. These two head recorded victories in the recent Pickaway County Harness Racing Matinee held at the Fairgrounds.

Stonerock Nine Lists 3 Games

Stonerock's TV softball team is slated to meet D&D Grill at 8 p. m. today at Ted Lewis Park in a practice game.

Sunday the Stonerock crew is scheduled for practice double-header with the Zanesville Merchants at the local park. The first test will start at 1:30 p. m.

Stonerock's, managed by Paul (Snow) Seymour, will participate in the Circleville Night Softball League and the Eastern Ohio Football loop this season. The team has played here the past few years as the Top Hat nine.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fishing conditions throughout most of the state are generally poor although there are a few bright spots in various districts.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Yankees have a new head coach for Ohio's 14th annual North-South high school football game at Canton Aug. 15.

Fred George of Cleveland Cathedral Latin moved into the top spot for the northern squad Thursday night as Gordon Larson, now of the Ohio State University staff, was ruled ineligible for the berth by the NCAA.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Manager Mayo Smith probably would pay good money if someone comes up with a recipe to give the Cincinnati Reds good pitching and hitting at the same time.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — An evenly matched field of 18, packed with horses who take off like a missile, gives promise that Saturday's Kentucky Derby will be one of the swiftest in recent years.

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The stay-at-home football and basketball fan in the Atlantic Coast Conference area may not be able to follow his favorite team next season by settling back in an easy chair and flipping on his television set.

MOM IS A VERY IMPORTANT PERSON

"WIFE INSURANCE" is the weakest link in the life insurance program of most households. Yet, in ONE-THIRD of all homes, the housewife is the first partner to die. Bankers Life Company now has a special new, low-cost plan that protects BOTH the "breadwinner" and the "homemaker". This "Partnership" insurance gives your home the economic protection it needs. May I tell you all about this new plan? Just call me.

184 Acre Clinton County Corn and Hog Farm Two Complete Sets Of Modern Buildings

Saturday, May 9, 1959

Sells at 2:00 P. M.

LOCATED — Three miles southwest of Sabina, Ohio, eight miles northeast of Wilmington on Hornbeam Road. (Follow arrows off State Route 3 and U. S. 22 one mile west of Sabina.)

184 ACRE FARM SELLS AT 2:00 P. M.

This outstanding 184 acre farm is exceptionally well located in one of Ohio's better agricultural areas just three miles from Sabina, Ohio. The Sabina area is recognized as having some of the best farm land in the State.

Anyone interested in an excellent corn-hog or general livestock farm should certainly take this opportunity to inspect this farm.

The improvements on this 184 acre farm include two complete sets of modern buildings. The main set of buildings includes an attractive two-story, seven room frame home which has just recently undergone extensive remodeling. The home consists of nice-sized living room; dining room; large family-sized kitchen with Youngstown cabinets; bedroom and full modern bath, all on first floor; second floor features four large bedrooms with cross ventilation and roomy closets. The modernization program has included new oak hardwood floors on first floor, new automatic oil furnace, completely new bathroom, new cement front porch and rear porch, aluminum siding and new doors and windows throughout. This home is attractively situated on a nice lawn with abundance of shrubbery and mature shade trees.

Other improvements include a new 60x24 pole-type machinery building and a new 75x24 pole-type hog and cattle barn. Barn, 60x50, with abundant mow area, water under pressure and modern feed mixer complete with augers. Utility building, 24x18; large garage with attached machinery storage building; poultry house, 21x18; 1900 bu. corn crib.

Second set of buildings consist of one-floor plan home with four rooms and bath and full basement. Tenant house has a complete new bath and a newly remodeled kitchen with wood paneling and water under pressure. Barn, 40x30, with attached 850 bu. corn crib; utility building; poultry house, 21x18 and 1000 bu. corn crib. All buildings are in good condition and under good roofs.

Land is level, approximately 177 acres tillable, balance in bluegrass lots. All land has been limed, fertilized, and seeded according to conservation recommendations and is in a high state of cultivation. The larger portion of this farm consists of Brookston Silt Loam and Celina Silt Loam soil types, both known for their high production qualities. The farm is furnished with a never-failing supply of water which is available to most fields. Electricity and water under pressure is available to most of the buildings which are conveniently located for the efficient handling of livestock. Fences are above average, with several rods of new fencing. The drainage is good, the farm having its own outlet. This is one of the better farms in Wayne and Richland Townships having all rural deliveries and a short distance from market, churches, and schools.

This farm is an excellent opportunity for the investment buyer or would be an ideal father and son operation. Buy this good Clinton County farm and hedge against inflation. If you are looking for an excellent corn-hog or general livestock farm with an ideal country home, you should inspect this farm.

Sale on the premises. Sells to the highest bidder.

TERMS — Growing crops consisting of 22 acres of wheat and 14 acres of oats sell as part of the farm. The clover and alfalfa seed is already sowed and 100 acres is already plowed. . . . $7500 cash day of sale — balance upon delivery of deed. Purchaser will receive GOOD TITLE and IMMEDIATE POSSESSION.

INSPECTION - FINANCING — Inspection permitted any time prior to day of sale by contacting Darbyshire & Associates, Inc., Wilmington, Ohio, Phone FU 2-2292 or evenings FU 2-3579. Excellent financing available; this farm will qualify for a long term insurance loan.
